

Just a few decades ago the cable industry didn't exist.

Nor did cable's hundreds of thousands of good new jobs.

Cable provides America meaningful employment.

Cable kept its commitment to America, while other industries folded or outsourced. Cable rapidly brought jobs and technological innovations that reshaped our world. Cable's fiber optics now bring us the most diverse and compelling programming on earth with video on demand, ultra-high-speed Internet, and low-cost, digital telephone service.

A Great American Success Story
